

You've been escaping the desert
Now you reminisce the sand
You hide yourself to open up
Now it's like you miss the sun

You just followed your sense
Losing yourself more than once
You kept walking that way
Blinded by love and the flaunt

You've been escaping the desert
So why're you looking for the sand?
You're not relishing victories
Your path is unusual

And I'm not for everyone
Do you understand me?
Are you reading my words?
Did you see?

I've been escaping the desert
I won't ever find the sand
All around I see the crowd
But I've never been so alone

And I'm not for everyone
Do you understand me?
Are you reading my words?
Did you see?
