

Digital Tears

RIMON

Tryna be with you but you wanna be December
Walk you through my day but your thoughts have always wandered
Keep saying the same shit, absences been blatant
Every time I try, you just gazing to discover
Ah ah, outrages
Ah ah, you made me like this
My patience exit
My tears they fall
No safety net, nah
Just endless ha ha's
Erase the data, for once

You should make it count
You got me weeping, you got me weeping
Digital tears, data leaking
When you're around
Oh, what's the meaning?
Digital tears, data leaking
Data leaking
Data leaking
Data leaking
Data leaking

No text, but I see you on the Gram with your friends, posting up
In them stories, peace signs in the air
While you air me, shit, upset 'cause I care
Shouldn't care, shouldn't care, but I care, yeah
You feel like home, but lately I've been homeless
When you do come, how come I feel lonely?
Show my best side, you be watching lives
Catch you when you like on a bitch, li-like on a bitch

You should make it count
You got me weeping, you got me weeping
Digital tears, data leaking
When you're around
Oh, what's the meaning?
Digital tears, data leaking
Data leaking
Data leaking
Data leaking
Data leaking

Papers are burned but the ink is still showing
Limited words to pour out my emotions
I ask for more but you run out of tokens
Losing the game, should've known, should've known
My neck is choked by your questions and motives
Of checking in, in my daily Gram doses
I ask for less of those toxic commotions
Losing the game, should've known, should've known

Should've known, should've known
Should've known, should've known
Should've known, should've known
I should've, should've, should've
