

Through the Wire

Rina Sawayama

I need a break from breaking up
My heart is cold from all these false starts
It's all because of who we are
Who I am, who I wanna be
Who you are

No more to give on giving up
I guess I wasn't brave enough
I loved you 'cause of who you are
But that don't mean that I love who you are to me

I'll keep checking you out from my bedroom
I'll keep feeling your arms through a screen
I'll keep filling you in on my movements
I'll keep being the girl that you see
Through the wire, through the wire
Through the wire, through the wire
