

Downward

Ripe

Eyes like water
Heart like hunger
Head like minefield
Heart like thunder
Starts with white wine
Now we're in daylight
I keep you crazy
While you keep me upright

And we were not surprised
To find each other's eyes
Responding to the moment
All chasin' after what we both wanted
Dive uncharted waters
Tomorrow's a whispered promise
Until you kill me with goodbye

And you keep sayin', "Don't be nervous"
Things aren't black or white
But is this only your decision
'Til you change your mind?

This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward

Call me side bet
Lucky rabbit
I can see what's comin', so you can call me prophet
We fight every mornin'
You kiss like a warden
I retreat to memories of when I adored you

When we were not surprised
To find each other's eyes
Responding to the moment
All chasing after what we both wanted
Dive uncharted waters
Tomorrow's a whispered promise
So kill me with goodbye

This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
And I don't mind the fall

You keep sayin', "Don't be nervous"
Things aren't black or white
Oh, but is this
Oh, but is this only your decision
'Til you change your mind?

With a wink, he says, "These things cut both ways"
When you spend your nights chasin' charm and strange
And I know that there are no straight answers to

What should I call this thing I feel?

But love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
This love keeps pullin' me downward
Pullin' me downward
