What seems like forever

A ghost or a stranger

She said just go on to what you

Pretend is your life but

So take a step

But don't look down, take a step

Now I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall (ready to fall)

I think I'm at the edge now but I could be wrong

F# A C# F# A B

I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall

Perpetual motion the image wont focus

A blur is all that's seen

But here in this moment like the eye of the storm

It all came clear to me

I found a shoulder to lean on

An infallible reason to live all by itself

I took one last look from the heights that I once loved

And then I ran like hell

Wings won't take me

Heights don't phase me

So take a step

But don't look down take a step

Now I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall (ready to fall)

I think I'm at the edge now but I could be wrong

I'm standing on a rooftop ready to fall

I count the times that Ive been sorry (I know I know)
