

Game of Appearances

Rise to Fall

You can't bear to be rejected, so you copy although it sucks
You sacrifice your own will for the approval of the mass

A great feeling of disconformity is telling you something is not going well
Is it freedom what you really want?
Dare to break the bonds, are you taking the plunge?

Always waiting for a stranger to change your course
It makes no sense to me
Why don't you stand up and take the reins of your fate?

Playing the game of appearances
We can only enlarge the void, be your true self

Always waiting for a stranger to change your course
It makes no sense to me
Why don't you stand up and take the reins of your fate?