

Born To Live

Rising Insane

I am seeing flashbacks
Days of summer dancing in my mind
It's hard to except
No one found a way to turn back time

In a sudden instant
We face our fears
Overwhelmed by the bitter truth
Nothing is safe around here

Caught in the silence
To driven by the
Life that we once lost
We're born to live and leave behind

We are not meant to be complete

I try, I really try to hold on
To the things that make me feel
Like there is anything
That might endure until I stop to breathe

But there's a fear of losing
Pushing me to fall for disbelieve

Caught in the silence
To driven by the
Life that we once lost
We're born to live and leave behind

But there's nothing preventing me to fall for disbelieve
I might be smiling
But it's not enough for me to find relief

Caught in the silence
To driven by the
Life that we once lost
We're born to live and leave behind
You see me now
Bearing the cross pushing down my neck
Born to live and leave behind
