

Broken Homes

Rising Insane

There was a time, I just don't know when
I enjoyed this life, before it all began
I tried to hide from the pain I feel
And I pushed away the ones who cared for me

But burning bridges paves the way for the flood
So we gotta let it get to us
And now I know I'm not alone
Saving myself from a broken

Home
Take me away, take me away
I've got to go
Escape my life for a second just to know
How can I move on, how can I go
Will I be safe when I leave this road
It's difficult but don't lose hope
Remember you are not alone

You're not alone

Tell me I need to try
To be better the next time
I need to push myself just a little more

Do you see the error, the twist in your head
Equal to the fear you planted in my chest
I finally understand I don't have to do a shit with your mistakes
Leave me alone

Your lies to keep your pride
Keep your illusion
You did not fuck up your god damn life
Now is the time
This is goodbye
I will escape from this broken

Home
Take me away, take me away
I've got to go
Escape my life for a second just to know
How can I move on, how can I go
Will I be safe when I leave this road
It's difficult but don't lose hope
Remember you are not alone

You're not alone
