

A breathless heart speaks a senseless mind
The mind pulls the trigger
I'm down to hide
I don't need more pain, I already know I'm alive
Feels like a habit to fight to survive

This seems so endless
Is there anybody getting it right
Anybody walking easy, not losing sight
Cause I am feeling like a hollow soul
Where do you run when senses sling you back
Your legs are making the movement
You come off track
Fingertips on broken glass
You wear the blood on your hands

For a lifetime heading the deadline
I've been fucked up lately
Tell me why's my mind so hazy
It is the same old shit in my head
Just give me one more word to feel
Like there's an ending to that

We build to crash and burn
But I want to restore
A time without concerns
Like it has been before
Where do you run there's no more time to choose
We gotta go by now
And leave this home

A breathless heart speaks a senseless mind
Fingertips on broken glass

Fingertips on broken glass
You wear the blood on your hands
You want to scream until there's nothing left
We're build to crash and burn
Until we breakaway

For a lifetime heading the deadline
I've been fucked up lately
Tell me why's my mind so hazy
It is the same old shit in my head
Just give me one more word to feel
Like there's an ending to that

Ignite a light for the tragedy
Ignite a light for the malady
I don't need more pain, because I know I'm alive
Feels like a habit to fight to survive
