

Silent Screaming

Rising Insane

I am irritated, where is the false behind these lies
This is frustration, this is the end
My soul is a scourge of mankind
And I'm imploding

Dare you to hear my silent screaming
The sound is more then you could ever take
Dare you to hear my soul, it's screaming

Let's go for this
Everytime I try to open up
It feels like concrete flooding me
Masses of pictures
Sell souls just for virtual fame
And on top of all this shit
Ignorant robots just consist of greed for clicks

Sick, sick, you are making me sick
Your lecherousness for fame leeds teens in caves of despair
And I need a lonely place
For my silent screaming soul, 'cause it's raped by the mankind
Tell me what has this world become

Dare you to hear my silent screaming
The sound is more then you could ever take
Dare you to hear my soul, it's screaming

So tell me what has this world become
