

They say the future is the time, we are starving for
When the presence is the state, we are hiding from Look up to the edge, we're only six feet ahead
And every step that we take is such a relevant threat
To our constant relief and I just think that we need Something to whiteout, whiteout what tears us down on our knees

We brought us down on our knees
Forced us to live with disease
We tear the loving apart
We pay for war not for peace
We need to whiteout hate and overcome what we've been We are up side down

I've been reflecting myself, draw a conclusion that wealth
Is nothing I would kill for, but others do well
And I just think we need, I really think that we need Something to whiteout

We brought us down on our knees
Forced us to live with disease
We tear the loving apart
We pay for war not for peace
We need to whiteout hate and overcome what we've been We are up
side down
Slowly drowning, constant
We are hiding from the presence

We brought us down on our knees
Forced us to live with disease
We tear the loving apart
We pay for war not for peace
We need to whiteout hate and overcome what we've been
They say the future is the time, we are starving for
When the presence is the state, we are hiding from
I am not here to fall, nor am I here to lose I am here to fight for a world I choose
They say with time comes salvation, it will all work out
But I don't believe in fairytales, the shout of the crowd
I am not here to fall, nor am I here to lose I am here to fight
for a world I choose
