

Wildfires

Rising Insane

I can see the sparks are flying higher now
They rise and rage, come back as fires but
We never change a thing
Crying like hypocrites
Our lives, your moral playground

Can not be changed
It's the infinite way
I get sick of the greed
Lie as soon as you speak
Take our lives as your moral playground

Ignite my fire
And pull me out of the dark
Ignite a light for
Humanity in memory

I can see the sparks they're flying higher now
They rise and rage, come back as fires but
We never change a thing
Crying like hypocrites
Ignorance for our best advisor
I can see the sparks they're flying higher now
Until the sky blows up and sending wildfires
This is our legacy
Life is a tragedy
Our lives, your moral playground

I'm so sorry for your
Obsession for power
This war against yourself
Raging further and further
The air you breathe
Polluted by your greed
This life you live
Will leave a heritage

Ignite my fire
And pull me out of the dark
Ignite a light for
Humanity in memory

I wanna know
Are these scars ever healing
Build a home on a basis
Costing the live of a million
Yeah you could be a saviour
But you choose to be evil
But you choose to be evil

I can see the sparks they're flying higher now
They rise and rage, come back as fires but
Crying like hypocrites
Until the sky blows up and sending wildfires

This is our legacy
Life is a tragedy
