

Better Days

Rita Coolidge

When your love has moved away
You must face yourself and you must say
I remember better days
Don't you cry cuz he is gone
He is only moving on
Chasing mirrors through a haze

Now that you know it's nowhere
What's to stop you coming home?
All you got to do is go there
Then you'll really realize what's going on

Went to a strange land searchin'
All the truth you found was wrong
That's when the heartache started
Though you're where you want to be
You're not where you belong

When your love has moved away
You must face yourself and you must say
I remember better days
Don't you cry cuz he is gone
He is only moving on
Chasing mirrors through a haze

When your love has moved away
You must face yourself and you must say
I remember better days
Hmmm, he is gone
He is only moving on
Chasing mirrors through a haze
