Solid Ground

Rita Ora

He has your hand
You hold my everything
This silent burden will be my tragedy

But your eyes say it all
When I lay you down
Yeah your eyes say it all
When I lay you down

I'll keep it close while I am under it
Dry every tear before you discover it

When my eyes say it all
When I lay you down
And my eyes say it all
When I lay you down
In the arms of another
You're on solid ground
I'm a fool
I'm a coward
And I'm breaking down

I know he's safety
And I am disarray
My will be done
I'd have you any way

Your eyes say it all
When he lays you down
And my eyes say it all
When he lays you down
In the arms of another
You're on solid ground
