

Every Battle

Rita Springer

And every imposter and every contender will fail to compare with You
There is no kingdom, authority, power like Yours
No one more royal, no one more loyal than one God, one Truth
No other kingdom, no other freedom like Yours

Oh, You are high
High and lifted up
Strong and mighty enough
You are King
And I hide
Covered by your wings
And it's there you fight for me
And every battle, every battle is Yours

No greater rescue than when you come through with strong love, strong love
All my accusers are silenced and scattered by You
Your people arising, we realize that it's finished, it's finished
Stand in the promise that it is accomplished in You

Oh, You are high
High and lifted up
You're strong and mighty enough
You are King
And I hide
Covered by your wings
And it's there you fight for me
And now every battle, every battle is Yours

No God or idols, no princes or power can have my worship
No threat of darkness and no fear of failing can steal my purpose
Yours my surrender, protector, defender
And every battle, every battle is Yours

Oh, You are high
High and lifted up
You're strong and mighty enough
You are King
And I hide
Covered by your wings
And it's there you fight for me
And now every battle, every battle is Yours
It is yours

Come on over this room, lift your voices
Oh God, every battle belongs to You Jesus
Every battle belongs to You Jesus
Oh we welcome You in this place, oh God
We welcome You in this house, oh God
And every battle belongs to You Jesus
