

Spotlight

Rita Springer

When You turn the lights on
Everything in hidden in darkness will scatter
When You stepped into my heart
Everything changed from the moment You came

I will move wherever You want me to move
Come and be the center of my every room

Your grace finds me in chaos
And fills up all of my fault lines
Come shine through all of my fractures
And let Your love be the spotlight
Your love is a spotlight

You run straight to my rescue
The kindness that my heart has never encountered
All my ruins You make new Building me better than I was before

So I will move wherever You want me to move, oh-oh-oh
Come and be the center of my every room

Your grace finds me in chaos
And fills up all of my fault lines
Come shine through all of my fractures
And let Your love be the spotlight
Your love's the spotlight
Your love is the spotlight

I will move wherever You want me to move
Come and be the center of my every room
I will move wherever You want me to move (Oh, oh)
Come and be the center of my every room (Oh, oh)
I will move wherever You want me to move (Oh, oh)
Come and be the center of my every room (Oh, oh)

Your grace finds me in chaos
And fills up all of my fault lines
Come shine through all of my fractures
And let Your love be the spotlight
Your love's the spotlight
