

Pyramid

Rivals

I feel the rush coming over me
Through the tides of uncertainty
I'm losing faith in reality
Yet I find myself staring at these walls
These dreams are my only friends
They turn into nightmares in the end
Patience lost when I turn cold
Growin' trees start to mold

Everything I found
Barely ever planned out
Keys don't ever turn
Guess I'm stuck, I'm trapped in these walls

I'm like a pyramid
And I'm standing tall, but just a maze
And I'm afraid, I'm afraid
The grave I dig will stay the same

If a tree made of gold stood alone, would you notice it?
If an apple were full of worms, would you eat it?
Unlike the rippling tide, I fled from all of these ties
And broke upon a shore unknown
I'm living life, I'm living life like a cold hard stone

Everything I found
Barely ever planned out
Keys don't ever turn
Guess I'm stuck, I'm trapped in these walls

I'm like a pyramid
And I'm standing tall, but just a maze
And I'm afraid, I'm afraid
The grave I dig will stay the same

So I'll climb the stairs
Taking steps upon a very, very thin hair
If I slip, I fall into a world I barely know
So I'll climb the stairs
I'm taking steps upon a very very thin hair
If I slip, I fall into a world I barely know

I'm like a pyramid, yeah
Standing tall, but just a maze
And I'm afraid, I'm afraid
The grave I dig will stay the same
I'm like a pyramid
Standing tall, but just a maze
And I'm afraid, I'm afraid
The grave I dig will stay the same
