

The Pool

River Whyless

Did you ever find the pool, love, that was promised?
Floating on your back, love, help the pain subside
Remembering the last words that were promised
Of you and I bound in endless light

Here I am and how I want you
If it could only stay the same
As it once was, as it once was

Before you take the flight, love, that I can't follow
I'll wed you in your bed, love, help the pain subside
I'll be thrown into the darkness come tomorrow
But for tonight, you'll be my bride

Here I am and how I want you
If it could only stay the same
As it once was, as it once was

I wish I had more strength, love, I wish we had more time
I'd have ripped apart the shadow that was inside you
But as it is, I'm empty now
But as it is, I'm empty now
But as it is, I'm empty now

Here I am and how I want you
Here I am and how I miss you
If it could only stay the same
As it once was, as it once was
As it once was
