

I've been waiting on this for too many hours
Speeding thoughts turn honest, fall under your power
Let me see you process, be honest with yourself
Carry all your losses, you carried me through hell
You carried me through hell

I know your secrets and I've seen your scars
I know your pieces, I've broke them apart
I gave you my reasons, I gave you my heart
We strayed from our feelings but now here we are

Time has gone and still nothing has changed
We both tried our hardest and couldn't replace
Four years have taught us and got us
We strayed from our feelings but now here we are

Always, always, always in love with you
Always, always, always in love with you

It's not just blind devotion, our lives still flow as one
Now I'm drowning in this ocean, only you can pull me up
Let's start this whole thing over, I guess I'm overwhelmed
Our love's in silent motion, I'm still under your spell
I'm still under your spell

I know your secrets and I've seen your scars
I know your pieces, I've broke them apart
I gave you my reasons, I gave you my heart
We strayed from our feelings but now here we are

Always, always, always in love with you uuh uuh
Always (always), always (always), always in love with you

The tears in my shoes and rips in my jeans
Pictures of you, to keep you with me
The holes in the sky, that we laid beneath
All of the pieces are always with me
The light in your eyes, it danced in the trees
As we drive through the town, where you said to me
I gave you my reasons, I gave you the truth
All of my reasons were always with you

Always, always, always in love with you
Always, always, always in love with you
