

Been awhile since we've spoken
It's hard to find words to say
Cause all we got left in common
Is how long we been this way

Remember when I left your city
Remember when we had that talk
Made sure that i woke up early
I never missed your call

Been a while since we've spoken
Ashamed of how long it takes
To say what I'm sure you've noticed
The anger might never fade

But don't worry
We can't hurry
It's gonna take some time
To unravel
This state of mind

After everything we say
All we do is hesitate
To learn to love each other
To learn to love each other

Even though we separate
It's never gonna be too late
To learn to love each other
To learn to love each other

Been awhile since we've spoken
I'm not sure where to go from here
Cause I don't wanna not say something
But I don't wanna live with fear

I'm scared of what you're withholding
Scared of what I might say
I know that we're worth the struggle
The love can outlast the pain

But don't worry
We can't hurry
It's gonna take some time
To unravel
This state of mind

After everything that we say
All we do is hesitate
To learn to love each other
To learn to love each other
