

How did we get this far on our own steam, not slowing down.
Chasing things that I thought weren't there to be beat, downstr eam but upbeat.

And there's not much to say but we've both been thinking how,
We can both stay alive, when the gears stuck in drive, but you'
re by my side.

And I tried to stay awake while you fell asleep,
Still miles away from the company I keep.
And I honestly try to keep you in mind,
I know that I'm selfish and I know you don't mind.

I've been dragging my heels in attempts to leave tracks,
Hoping that someday soon I can follow them back.
'Cause we've both made mistakes and I'm paying for mine.
I'm further in distance for more of the time.

It's not the same talking through a phone screen, we're losing out.
And I've been counting down the days, and I know you do the sam e.
And I know you do the same.

And I tried to stay awake while you fell asleep,
Still miles away from the company I keep.
And I honestly try to keep you in mind,
I know that I'm selfish and I know you don't mind.

I've been dragging my heels in attempts to leave tracks,
