

Wondering Why

ROAR

The cannibal mind will eat, no matter the cost
But I'm running out of chalk to outline my thoughts
And though you hung up long ago, I never finish our talks
There should be something here to show, but I don't know when t o stop

I know that you are wondering why
It still seems like I am falling behind
I-I know that you are wondering why
It still seems like I am falling behind

I shouldn't be here, I know
If I could move, I still wouldn't know where to go
"Is it always this slow?"
Said the broken pony swallowed up by the snow

You can build a problem anywhere you want one
You can build a problem anywhere you want one
You can build a problem anywhere you want one
You can build a problem anywhere you want one