

Believer

Rob Baird

Straight out of Jackson with a cold start
No more whiskey, trying to cut clean
If I'd listened to the promises you made me
Wouldn't be missing you so desperately

I'm believer do you believe
Gonna run down your memory
I'm believer do you believe
Gonna run down your memory

Marietta moon across the water
I hear ya calling from Tennessee
A voice out on the line I've chased a thousand times
Shinning next to me

I'm believer do you believe
Gonna run down your memory
I'm believer do you believe
Gonna run down your memory

All those yesterdays upon my mind
I still want you desperately
All those yesterdays on my mind
I'm still waiting still waiting desperately

I'm believer do you believe
Gonna run down your memory
I'm believer do you believe
Gonna run down your memory
Gonna run down your memory
