

Don't Cry for Me

Rob Baird

Lose a minute, every morning, lose a minute, every night
I'm not scared of losin', I've been losin' all my life
Days are gettin' colder, nights are gettin' long
Summer ain't forever, babe, just hangin' on a wall

Don't cry for me, don't cry for me
Tears aren't gonna hold ya, holding's what you need

I've spent my life chasin', what I'd never find
I won't give up tryin', the voices in my mind
Tell me what I'm lookin' for, is always by my side
Searchin' in the distance, for the things I left behind

Don't cry for me, don't cry for me
Tears aren't gonna hold ya, holding's what you need
Don't cry for me, don't cry for me
I'll be gone by the morning, so don't you cry for me

Running around in circles, running between the points of no return
No direction, disappearing, disconnection

Don't cry for me, don't cry for me
Tears aren't gonna hold ya, holding's what you need
Don't cry for me, don't cry for me
I'll be gone by the morning, so don't you cry for me

I'll be gone by the morning, so don't you cry for me
