

Louise

Rob Baird

It's the end of another year
What's a girl like you doin' here
Did you come with some questions and some fears
Cause you don't know if it could be worse
When you slide up to the bar
This ain't a place that you can get far
Cause I'm drinking in your car
Without the keys or a place to go

Louise, it's New Years Eve
And I ain't gonna leave you
No, you don't have to worry
Cause I don't know how to be
Long dead

It's the end of another drink
It'll give you time to think
Or are you gonna sink when
Midnight calls
You can sit right here with me
We don't have to say a thing
Well maybe we can run away
And start where love left our hearts

Louise, it's New Years Eve
And I ain't gonna leave you
No, you don't have to worry
Cause I don't know how to be
Long dead

Baby we can steer clear
We can make our way out of here
In the morning you don't have to
You don't have to call me dear

Louise, it's New Years Eve
And I ain't gonna leave you
No, you don't have to worry
Cause I don't know how to be
Long dead
I don't know how to be
