

Please, Please

Rob Baird

Sun goes up and, sun goes down
Another day another night come 'round
Waiting for you to come back home
I got my questions, I got my doubts
It's nothin' we can't figure out
So darlin', don't toss me out on my own

I'm beggin' you please, please please
Don't go fallin' out of love with me
Give me one more chance before you say goodbye
I'm beggin' you please, please please
Don't go fallin' out of love with me
Give me one more chance, to keep you satisfied

So tell me darlin', just confess
There's somethin' new about the way you kiss
What puts that lonesome look in your eye
There's someone else, tell me, what's his name
Don't he know that love's not a game
A thousand kisses, a thousand lies

I'm beggin' you please, please please
Don't go fallin' out of love with me
Give me one more chance before you say goodbye
I'm beggin' you please, please please
Don't go fallin' out of love with me
Give me one more chance, to keep you satisfied

And darlin' don't tell me, if you could do it all again
That you wouldn't be sure not to let love fall through your hands

I'm beggin' you please, please please
Don't go fallin' out of love with me
Give me one more chance before you say goodbye
I'm beggin' you please, please please
Don't go fallin' out of love with me
Give me one more chance, to keep you satisfied

Give me one more chance, to keep you satisfied
