

All Night Days

Rob Thomas

Whatever happened to the all night days?
I'm bringing them back again
'Cause we feel like it's all been done
Before

And your heart's like a wheel from a car that you steal
And you drive till you get back home
And you ran it up a million miles
Or more

I wanted to steal you from this moment
I wanted to take you by surprise
I wanted to wrap you up in starlight
And stay there all night

I know I'm just a little bit drunk right now
I've never felt like this
I wish I could be wild
Just for a little while
I've been feeling a little bit stuck
Don't wait to let your hair hang down
'Cause it feels good to be wild
Just for a little while

Raging fire better cool my head
I'm over the worst of it
And the real life's feeling crazy
Better make up something
It's alright, we traded life for feeling safe
No more all night days

I know I'm just a little bit drunk right now
I've never felt like this
I wish I could be wild
Just for a little while
I've been feeling a little bit stuck
Don't wait to let your hair hang down
'Cause it feels good to be wild
Just for a little while
Just for a little while

I wish I could be wild for a little while

I know I'm just a little bit drunk right now
I've never felt like this
I wish I could be wild
Just for a little while
I've been feeling a little bit stuck
Don't wait until you're underground
'Cause it feels good to be wild
Just for a little while
