

Common Ground

Robben Ford

Is anybody lookin' round
Can anyone see
A world of illusion
People blind as can be

Tell me you want a different world
Than the one that works for me
Tell me you were raised a different way
Than what I believe

So many different points of view
Don't know where this world is bound
If we're ever gonna come together
Got to find some common ground
We've got to find some common ground

Everybody's lookin' round
Can anyone see
A world of illusion
What is reality?

Tell me you worship the sun and the moon
Love will set you free
Tell me you think this is all there is
It's enough for you and me, yeah

So many different ways to live
Don't know where this world is bound
If we're ever gonna come together
We've got to find some common ground
We've got to find some common ground

Tell me you worship the sun and the moon
Love will set you free
Tell me you think this is all there is
It's enough for you and me

So many different ways to live
Don't know where this world is bound
If we're ever gonna come together
We've got to find some common ground
We've got to find some common ground...
