

Make Me Your Only One

Robben Ford

I'm a drifter, I walk this world alone
I'm a drifter, I walk this world alone
I lost the love of a lifetime and found a heart of stone

Miles and miles had come between us even when we shared a bed
Miles and miles had come between us even when we shared a bed
When we were once so close together and I remember the things she said

refrão: Make me your only one
Make me your only one
Make me your only one
Make me your only one

At first I was angry when she said that we were through
At first I was angry when she said that we were through Now I'm just so sick down inside me and the only cure is you

refrão: Make me your only one
Make me your only one
Make me your only one
Make me your only one
