

What I Haven't Done

Robben Ford

I'm better off for what I haven't done
I'm better off for what I haven't done
Happier with what I haven't won
Better off for what I haven't done
It'll take all day just to chase the sun
Better off for what I haven't done
Better off for what I haven't done

The road to heaven goes off a ways
Where the streets are paved with them better days
I don't think about where I'm going
The hopeful rose can have some petty thorns
Said the lonely bullet to the smoking gun
I'm better off for what I haven't done
I'm better off for what I haven't done

Better off for what I've not become
Living dog days with the blinders on
Better off for what I haven't got
With a lighter load and a happy heart

I can get along any given day
Break your stare by just looking away
That kind of love is a dollar and done
You just gather up your things and run
I prefer my nights in the sun
I'm better off for what I haven't done
I'm better off for what I haven't done

Better off for what I've not become
Living dog days with the blinders on
Better off for what I haven't got
With a lighter load and a happy heart

I can get along any given day
Break your stare by just looking away
That kind of love is a dollar and done
You just gather up your things and run
I prefer my nights in the sun
I'm better off for what I haven't done
I'm better off for what I haven't done
