

The Long Goodbye

Robbie Dupree

A promise is made to be broken
And then it turns into a lie
A wish is for hopin' that a fire won't die
When our love has run out of time

For the long goodbye
Time to let go now
End of the road now
For the long goodbye
Sooner or later
We'll have to say it one last time

Too many words left unspoken
And maybe there's nothin' to say
We tried to hold on, but the dream got away
And now there's no reason to stay

For the long goodbye
It's time to let go now
End of the road now
For the long goodbye
Sooner or later
We'll have to say it one last time

We'll have to say it one last time
