

Walls Come Down

Robbie Dupree

Too late to talk it over, we had to walk away
I never dreamed we'd say goodbye
Too many confrontations, and the walls will take their turn
Oh love, we never let it show

When you hear that sound
And it keeps you up all night
When the walls come down around you
And the wind blows through your life

Sooner or later (sooner or later)
Love will forget your name
It's going down in flames
So many memories, but love kept breaking down
I know we had to let it go

When you hear that sound
And it keeps you up all night
When the walls come down around you
And the wind blows through your life
When you hear that sound
And it keeps you up all night
When the walls come down around you
And the wind blows, and the wind blows...

When you hear that sound
And it keeps you up all night
When the walls come down around you
And the wind blows through your life
When you hear that sound
And it keeps you up all night
When the walls come down around you
And the wind blows, and the wind blows

When you hear that sound inside
You can hear that sound (breaking in)
You'll be cryin' out loud, when the walls come down
Let the wind blow...
You'll be cryin' out loud, when the walls come down
You can hear that sound
You can hear that sound tonight
And you'll claw your mouth, when the walls come down
And the wind blows through your life
