

The Impossible

Robbie Williams

You can't do it
You're not good enough
Enough
Don't be stupid
You're not one of us
Of us

You look and nothings there
But no one knows and no one cares
And there all right and you were wrong
And you don't know the words to their song

There'll be wave after wave of emotion but none of them love
The impossible must be
When run down the road less travelled and stare at the sun
The impossible must be
God give me grace under pressure cause I don't think I'm good enough
The impossible must be done

Your excluded you can't play with us
With us
We all hate you cringe when you walk by
So walk on by

So what's someone to do when they've got nothing else to choose
Suppose there's nothing left to lose
No one will know when your gone

There'll be wave after wave of emotion but none of it's love
The impossible must be
When run down the road less travelled and stare at the sun
The impossible must be
God give me grace under pressure cause I don't think I'm good enough
The impossible must be done
The impossible must be done
The impossible must be done

Here lies the body of someone who didn't try
Who gave up long ago
Before they died

Your face will never fit
And there's nowhere left to sit
Everything you've done is shit
And you're wasting your time mate move on

There'll be wave after wave of emotion but none of it's love
The impossible must be done
When run down the road less travelled and stare at the sun
The impossible must be done
God give me grace under pressure cause I don't think I'm good enough
The impossible must be done
The impossible must be done
The impossible must be done
