

That's What We Call Love

Robert DeLong

At the house
You were lonely
And you had only one thought
Pick up the phone and type the numbers
The line is busy
You wonder who he's calling
Cause you know, that it's not you
He must be steppin' out, you thought

But you don't know who he's calling
And you don't know what he's saying, do you?
And you don't know anything about it
And that's what we call love, and that's what we call love

At the church
You were lonely
And you wanted new thoughts
You heard the words of the pastor
As he was praying to god

But you don't know who he's calling
And you don't know what he's saying, do you?
And you don't know anything about it
And that's what we call love, and that's what we call love
And that's what we call love, and that's what we call love
And that's what we call love, and that's what we call love
