Without You

Robert Goulet

Rain will rain, snow will snow
The Earth will keep on turning, even though you go
I'll miss you so, but I'll go on without you

Spring will come, Spring will go
The sun'll keep on shining, and the rivers flow
I'll need you so, but I'll go on without you

Don't think that I'm angry with you
I know you must do
Whatever is in your heart

Time's gonna heal the heartache I will
But who can wait a million years
And who can cry a million tears
Perhaps my heart will flame again
But darling, it could never be the same again
I want you so, but I'll go on without you

I love you so, that I just don't know
How I'll ever go on without you
