

Reasons

Robert Grace

There was a time I thought you'd be better off without me
I wasn't good enough, I only made mistakes
And even when I tried to make you happy
I thought that everything I touch would slowly break

But when I say that you should go, you never do
You know I've never had this much to lose

'Cause I've got reasons to live
Can't give up, can't give up now
Looking at my wife and kids
That's enough, that's enough now
Oh you know I
Can't count the times that I tried to quit
Give up on life, 'cause I'm bad at it
But it's a good thing I never did
'Cause now I've got
I've got reasons to live

I put you to bed and you wake me in the morning
You never sleep in
And your sister says you're the bestest friend she has
And every time I leave yeah I always say I'm sorry
Yeah it's hard for me
'Cause you're never gonna be this young, this small again

But I feel less alone now I've got you
Don't you know I've never had this much to lose

I've got reasons to live
Can't give up, can't give up now
Looking at my wife and kids
I'm enough, I'm enough now (I'm enough, I'm enough now)
Oh you know I
Can't count the times that I tried to quit
Give up on life, 'cause I'm bad at it
But it's a good thing I never did (A good thing I never did)
'Cause now I've got
I've got reasons to live

I've got reasons
I'm not leaving
Til my time is up
I mean it
I need you
More than you need me
You're the reason
I'm still breathing

I've got reasons
I'm not leaving
Til my time is up
I mean it
I need you
More than you need me
You're the reason
I'm still breathing
