

Daylight

Robert Tepper

Too save within these walls
Where love and anger falls
There lies silent in bed
Too deep for what's been said

They move around
In this emotional grind
Misunderstand
They try it one more time
Theirs bodies bend
Onto a road that leads them
Somewhere closer to the

Daylight
So bright
Daylight
So bright
After the dark night
It comes along

To see within their hearts
In search for missing parts
There lies the sacred key
To this faceless mystery

They toss and turn
In this irrational dance
Sometimes get burned
And give it one more chance
Behind the mask
There is a vision moving
Somewhere closer to the

Daylight
So bright
Daylight, yeah
So bright
After the dark night
It comes along

And then like a rose they lay
Down on the jungle floor
Where after the wind and the rain
All that remains only the daylight

They move around
In this emotional grind
Misunderstand
They try it one more time
Theirs bodies bend
Onto a road that leads them
Somewhere closer and closer

Daylight
So bright
Daylight
So bright

[?] daylight, yeah
So bright
Daylight
So bright
After the dark night
It comes along
