

Domination

Robert Tepper

What gets you so excited
Playing with emotions
To be the ringmaster of another life
Preying on a dream

You had all the power
You had all the glory
And I was hungry, hungry
And eager to please

What gives you the right
To take another man's fight
And push him away like an empty tray
When you've taken your last bite

Domination, domination
Ain't that your name
Domination, domination
Ain't that your game

I know that you carry
Your verbal revolver
And you keep it
Strapped to your side

You want to see me on my knees
Begging to you please
Floating on some sea of mercy
In the dead of night

Domination, domination
Ain't that your name
Domination, domination
Ain't that your game

They don't know what your heart is after

What gives you the right
To shoot me down and cry
And turn me away like an empty tray
You've taken your last bite

Domination, domination
Ain't that your name
Domination, domination
Ain't that your game

Domination, domination
