

When There's Love

Roberta Flack

It's time for celebrating
It's the season of good cheer
It's the splendor of each moment
Greeting friends from far and near
Showing just how much you care
Even though they can't be there
And your heart's inclined to share this Joy everywhere

Then you think of all the blessings
That have been bestowed on you
When you didn't know how you'd make it
But somehow you made it through
Sing a song of victory
Do a dance for all to see
We're inviting you to join in Love's popourri

Cause there's Love, enough for everybody
Love, come on and join the party
Love, everyone wants somebody when there's Love
When there's Love, when there's Love, when there's Love
Better believe you know it's true ooohh

When you have a special someone and you have to let them know
Just when you least expect it
All your feelings start to show
And it's out of your control
When it starts to make you bold
You reveal a poem of Love before
Never told

When there's Love, enough for everybody
Love, come on and join the party
Love, cause everyone wants somebody when there's Love
When there's Love, when there's Love, when there's Love

Can we express ourselves with thanks and giving
Can we appreciate the joys of living
Is there a thought of kindness in your day
In all you say
Then don't delay

When there's Love, enough for everybody
Love, Love, come on and join the party
Love, everyone wants somebody when there's Love
When there's Love, when there's Love
When there's Love, enough for everybody
Love, come on and join the party
Love, everyone wants somebody when there's Love
When there's Love, when there's Love
When there's Love

When there's Love
There's Love. Oooh
When there's Love
When there's Love
Love, Love, Love
