

Cherish

Robin Gibb

If making love was a strategy
I never knew so much
About my faith in a fantasy I could feel
That once became so real
All the wounds of life your hands would heal
But a little bit of love and a little too late
But you went away

If everything was an attitude
I never thought so much
I've never felt so emotional
As soon as you cast the spell upon my soul
There's a watch that winds of change unfold
A little bit of love and a little too late
And I wanna stay, wanna stay

You know I cherish you, yeah, yeah
I cherish you
Cherish you, yeah, yeah
I cherish you
All my days I worship you
I dedicate my life to you
You know I cherish you, yeah, yeah
I cherish you

Oh yeah

Where there was doubt you defended me
I was a restless child
But now the friend or the enemy
Could divide if I deprived this love or
Accuse, abuse or use this love
But a little bit of love and a little too late
And I'm gonna stay, I'm gonna stay

You know I cherish you, yeah, yeah
I cherish you
You know I cherish you, yeah, yeah
You know I cherish you
All my days I worship you
I dedicate this life to you
You know I cherish you, yeah, yeah
I cherish you

All around is changing
Who really may be safe
We never saw the dangers
And everything will change

You know I cherish you, yeah, yeah
I cherish you (when love is all around)
You know I cherish you, yeah, yeah
You know I cherish you (I've never played a game)
I cherish you, yeah, yeah
I cherish you
