Robin Schulz

Everyone is a child
Wonder what the child can do
In that big playground
The open gates now

Everyone is a child
Wonder what the child can do
In that big playground
The open gates now
When we set to rule

Summer nights that you hope to survive
Where they came off til they turn to smiles
Show my ride through the scenes of surprise
Then we fly through the night til sunrise

Summer nights

(Oh Yeah yeah)

Everyone is a child
Wonder what the child can do
In that big playground
The open gates now
When we set to rule

Imagine what the living people do
When we push them aside
Then love wont break them
Love will break through

Everyone is a child
Wonder what the child can do
In that big playground
The open gates now
When we set to rule

Everyone is alive
Imagine what the living people do
When's e push them aside
Then love wont break them
Love will break through

Summer nights that you hope to survive
Where they came off til they turn to smiles
Show my ride through the scenes of surprise
Then we fly through the night til sunrise

Summer nights that you hope to survive
Where they came off til they turn to smiles
Show my ride through the scenes of surprise
Then we fly through the night til sunrise

Summer nights that you hope to survive
Where they crame off til they turn to smiles
Show my ride through the scenes of surprise

Summer nights that you hope to survive
Where they came off til they turn to smiles
Show my ride through the scenes of surprise
Then we fly through the night til sunrise
