Testify

Robin Thicke

Yeah... ooh...
Oh Lord

I was standing on a mountain top
The sunshine smiling on my face
The breeze was taking me away
It was the perfect day
And everything changed

And I lost my father suddenly
I couldn't keep it together, my family
And all my reckless ways caught up with me
Like the tortoise and the hair
I was sleeping when I shouldn't be

I come back to you, come back
I come back to you
I come back to you, come back
I come back to you

I testify
I pledge allegiance to you
This love inside
It makes me come back to you
I testify
I pledge allegiance to you
Live or die
I always come back to you

I lost my job and it haunted me
Me and my lady lost her pregnancy
And at my lowest, it dawned on me
I'd forgotten who I'm s'posed to be

I testify
I pledge allegiance to you
This love inside
It makes me come back to you
I testify
I pledge allegiance to you
Live or die
I always come back to you

Broken free from the chains that binded me
Like an angel with brand new wings
I can be anything I wanna be
I can love myself again

Oh, I come back to you
I come back to you
I come back to you, come back
I come back to you
