

Pretty face with a big booty
I know what it could do to me
Suicide, suicide
Hope it's your blessings in disguise
My mama told me different
My niggas didn't cosign
Of course I didn't listen
I was way too busy tryna get a hold of you
Close to you
I'm lacing up my boots 'cause I'm trippin'
I can't handle the truth at the minute
You showed me plenty signs but I missed it
Or maybe I just chose to be selective
You know I got a ego (ego)
I keep my feelings incognito
I know you know the better joes will kill me slow now

You were never satisfied, satisfied, satisfied
You were never satisfied, satisfied, satisfied
I think about it in the middle of the night, of the night, of the night
You were never satisfied
You were never satisfied, satisfied

I know if we're more than friends
At what ends could be the death of me
I know it became a trend
I need new niggas to defeat
I wanna be dependent, I miss independent
But I heard they're killing niggas with lethal weapons
Damn, [?] that's trouble
How did we quickly become enemies? (You gotta let that go)
I think of you for seven day, tryna find a way (You gotta let that go)
You used to say my name, say my name
We were destined for a child but you changed
My heart is numb but I still feel the pain, still feel the pain

You were never satisfied, satisfied, satisfied
You were never satisfied, satisfied, satisfied
I think about it in the middle of the night, of the night, of the night
You were never satisfied
You were never satisfied, satisfied

I was feeling myself
I knew if I was with you I'd be killing myself
I ain't crying out for help
It's just hard to see me with somebody else
I cannot hide it or fight it
I keep my chin up when life hits
But I'ma be a G about it
Show her I can live without it
Show her I can live without it

You were never satisfied, satisfied, satisfied
You were never satisfied, satisfied, satisfied
I think about it in the middle of the night, of the night, of the night
You were never satisfied
You were never satisfied, satisfied
