

Busy

Robyn Ottolini

You used to say every Saturday
That you didn't have time for me
'Cause they were for the boys, oh boy
Needed you to come by when my dog died
And even though I cried, you were preoccupied
And so annoyed, like I had a choice

And I get it, you had better things
To be doing, you said screw it, oh dang
Now you're asking me what I'm doing
Yeah, the truth is

I'm busy doing nothing at all
Just sitting here staring at these four walls
I'm busy looking out the window
Watching every blade of the green grass grow
I think it's safe to say, yeah
I don't have time to day
I ain't got nowhere to be, yeah
So leave a message at the beep, yeah
'Cause I'm busy

I gotta clean my refrigerator
Hell I might get stuck in an elevator
For fun (yeah) I might meet someone (I might meet someone)
And then we'll go play a little bit of bingo
Blow a little bit of money at the Pearl Casino
Half drunk, I'm all booked up

I'm busy doing nothing at all
Just sitting here staring at these four walls
I'm busy looking out the window
Watching every blade of the green grass grow
I think it's safe to say, yeah
I don't have time to day
I ain't got nowhere to be, yeah
So leave a message at the beep, yeah
'Cause I'm busy

B's for bless your heart
U's for you messed up
S is for don't even start, and honey you know
Y we're done and why I'm

I'm busy doing nothing at all
Just sitting here staring at these four walls
I'm busy looking out the window
Watching every blade of the green grass grow
I think it's safe to say, yeah
I don't have time to day
I ain't got nowhere to be, yeah
So leave a message at the beep, yeah
'Cause I'm busy
