

Sunny

Rocco

I'll play pretend
In a world where I could be a man
For someone who would take my hand
So we could drift away (Mhm)
But in reality, I wish that possibly (Possibly)
That someone could find their way, to my heart
Oh, I long for someone who stays
Even if the world crashes down

But when you walked in (Walk)
No more cloudy days
I feel it in my skin
I'm guessin' that you found your way?
Oh, you hit me like a truck
But now the sun shines above, the skies are blue
When it's me and you

Ba-ba
Ba-ba, duh-duh-duh
Duh-duh, ba, ba-ba
Duh-duh-duh-duh-duh

It was hard to blame
'Cause I tend to isolate
Playing all these silly games
I guess I wasn't cut out for love
'Cause love is always ill-advised
Never really worked my way before
Spending all my summer times
Picking up my heart off the floor
But who am I kidding?
I knew there was something missing
Deep down, I longed for their touch
Is that asking too much?

But when you walked in
There were no more cloudy days
I feel it in my skin
I'm guessin' that you found your way?
Oh, you hit me like a truck
But now the sun shines above, the skies are blue
When it's me and you

From the rain came cloudy days
When you walked into my life, got so bright
And my troubles, they all seemed to fade
Ba, ba, ba, ba