

No Doubt at All

Rockapella

I was alone, thunderclouds were rolling
You came along; Cupid was out strolling
Lightening had struck, but no rain would fall

My fantasy life had me in a pickle
Who'd be my wife? Why, I could be so fickle
How could I doubt, when there's no doubt at all.

Knotted and confused
I loved you and yet refused
Getting close was not my style
But my life turned around when I reconciled

Now that you're near, life is so delicious
Melting my fears, fulfilling all my wishes
With you in my arms, there's no doubt at all

I was set to stun
I'd love girls, then hit and run
All mixed up and on the brink
I could throw it away, or just call my shrink

Now that you're near, life is so delicious
With luck, in a year, you'll be obstetricious
With you in my arms, there's no doubt at all