

Who Designed The Snowflake

Rod Stewart

Who designed the snowflake
Who made the planet spin
Who came up with new born babies skin
Who created seasons
The cycle of rebirth
Who introduced the oceans to the earth

Well whoever made the snowflakes
Made shadows where doubts lurk
I suspect an artist is at work
I know when an artist is at work

Who designed the snowflake
Who made that crystal fall
Fragile yet resilient in a storm
Who designed the snowflake
I look for clues or hints
For traces of the craftsman's fingerprints

I don't know who made the snowflake
So intricate sublime
But I can spot an artist every time
Oh, I can spot an artist every time

Did the darkness and the stars witness
What happened long ago
Did the darkness and the stars witness
What happened long ago
Perhaps only they know

Who invented the rainbow
Who made the waterfall
Who came up with new born babies skin

Some will tell you nature's random
That beauty's just a quirk
I believe an artist is at work
Sshhh, an artist is at work
I say, look a genius at work
