

Everything

Rod Wave

Yeah, yeah, uh

We could've had it all, but we lost it
We were this close, I saw it
And I couldn't see it coming, but I watched it leave
We could've had everything, everything, everything
We could've had everything, everything, everything

This my last song about old girl
This my last song about old girl (Yeah)
Know you're probably somewhere in your own world
I just came home off a tour 'round the whole world
You know I ain't tripping on that shit no more (No more)
This is just a song about how love go, about how love work
I know how love hurt
And what can happen when you put love first
Could've had it all, rolling the deep
Probably thought I was just selling a dream
When I told you 'bout the house and the wedding with rings
I was only nineteen back in 2019
Tryna figure it out, get it all right (I remember)
Young nigga tryna figure out life, yeah (Cold December)
'Member we had nothing together
Now we ain't got nothing together (Yeah, yeah)

We could've had it all, but we lost it
We were this close, I saw it
And I couldn't see it coming, but I watched it leave
We could've had everything, everything, everything
We could've had everything, everything, everything

(Shit worked out for the better, you know)
Song about old girl (See [?] on TV and shit)
In your own world (This shit heard all around the world, this s hit)
Whole world
Could've had everything, everything, everything, yeah (For sure
, first thing to happen to a nigga [?], everything)
Everything, everything, everything, yeah (Everything, grrah)
Song about old girl
In your own world
Whole world
Could've had everything, everything, everything, yeah (Everythi ng)
Everything, everything, everything, yeah (Everything)
Ah
Could've had everything, everything, everything
