Only Two Hearts

Rodney Crowell

No stars in the sky, the night seems so dark around you
You won't say a word, and wonder why no one's found you
Waiting for love, praying for love again

Love's a heavy weight, give it to me don't hesitate
Love's a heavy thing, too heavy for one heart to bring me your love
Give me your love again, it's not your fault
One heart can never win it takes

Two hearts, two hearts just to hold love
Two hearts, two hearts just to hold your lo-o-o-o-o-ve
Your lo-o-o-o-o-ve

And if your heart should ache remember me
And if your heart should break

Two hearts, two hearts they can mend it
Heartache, heartaches can be ended by love, by love

Love's a heavy weight, give to me don't hesitate
Love's a heavy thing, too heavy for one heart to bring me your love
Give me your love again, It's not too late
One heart can never win, it takes two hearts

Two hearts, two hearts just to hold love
Two hearts, two hearts just to hold your lo-o-o-o-o-ve
Your lo-o-o-o-o-ve
