

Looking For You

Roger Daltrey

Somewhere out there, city streets
Secret places where lovers meet
But I stay in my room And look down at the people below
Watching for the one face I've been lwaiting for
Been living alone for far too long
Now I need someone I can depend upon
But who knows what I'll do
When I've searched in all the places I know
Watching for the one heart that I'm waiting for Looking for you I've walked the boulevards
Looking for you I've hung around all night bars
Looking for you I leave the door ajar
Where do you think you are?
Somewhere out there the city beats
But I won't give up, won't admit defeat I'll go on searching
Through the crowds that keep us apart
Watching for the one face--calling your heart
